

ANNUAL REPORT

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Hoosier Lottery continues to prove itself a worthwhile Hoosier institution that returns millions in value to Indiana communities across the state each year. Since 1989, the Hoosier Lottery has been charged with maximizing revenues to the state by way of fun and light entertainment. We continue each year to find new and better ways to do that, which align with Hoosier preferences and interests.

Those efforts paid off significantly in FY 2013.

In the past fiscal year, the Hoosier Lottery earned $934 million in sales, a nine percent increase over fiscal year 2012. Instant (scratch and pull-tab) ticket sales set a new record at $616 million, which was an increase of $59 million or 11 percent in FY 2013. This increase in instant ticket sales was primarily a reflection of continued improvement in product, communication and distribution strategies. The Hoosier Lottery also had a great year with its draw-game sales. Powerball had larger than average jackpots during FY 2013. The large jackpots led to a $20 million or a seven percent increase in draw game sales over the prior year.

To continue to maximize revenues over the longer term, the Hoosier Lottery traveled a different path in FY 2013 and entered into an integrated services agreement to outsource its sales, distribution, advertising and marketing operations to GTECH Indiana, a firm with deep expertise in global lottery management. By energizing the brand, expanding the retailer network, introducing innovative new games, instituting operational efficiencies, and establishing a comprehensive social responsibility program, the GTECH Indiana business plan is expected to generate significant net income over 15 years for the State of Indiana. Over the first five years alone, GTECH Indiana anticipates that the implementation of its annual business plan will result in growing the amount of surplus revenue returned to the State from $225 million in 2013 to potentially as much as $400 million or more in 2018. The integrated services agreement became effective in October of 2012 and GTECH Indiana began performing the full range of services under the contract on July 1, 2013.

While the Hoosier Lottery Commission began its transition to an integrated services structure in FY 2013, it still continues to have full oversight and actual control of all Lottery operations on behalf of the State of Indiana, including the accounting function with 11 employees, security and internal controls functions with 15 employees, administration with 12 employees, compliance with two employees and information technology with two employees. My position as the Lottery's Executive Director is still appointed by the Governor, as is the five-member Commission.

The Lottery's game portfolio continues to reside solely in the categories of instant and draw formats. This year the Lottery's draw-game portfolio included: Hoosier Lotto, Powerball® with Power Play®, Mega Millions® with Megaplier®, Daily 3, Daily 4, Lucky 5, Mix & Match™, Quick Draw, Cash 5, EZmatch, Raffle and Tag 6.

Good Causes include local Police & Fire Pensions, Teacher's Retirement Fund and the Build Indiana Fund. Our ability to maximize sales and control our operational costs is critical to the good causes that benefit from Hoosier Lottery sales each year. In fact, 94 cents of every dollar the Hoosier Lottery earns goes back to Indiana communities in the form of winner payments, retailer commissions, vendor payments, pension-fund payments, and contributions to the Build Indiana Fund. From the FY 2013 earnings, $225 million was returned to the state to fund good causes in every Indiana county. Each fiscal year, the Hoosier Lottery contributes $30 million to local police and firefighters' pensions, and $30 million to the Teacher's Retirement Fund. In FY 2013, $164 million in Hoosier Lottery earnings helped reduce motor vehicle excise taxes by 50 percent.

Here at the Hoosier Lottery, we call that a win-win; because with each purchase of a Hoosier Lottery ticket, everybody wins. We look forward to another winning year ahead in FY 2014.

Sincerely,

Sarah M. Taylor

Executive Director of the Hoosier Lottery
